SERVICE CLUBS IN JOINT MEET HERE TUESDAY

Now doing public relations work for the San Francisco Seals, Mails does much to interest boys in athletics, not as a competitive game but in the field of good sportsmanship. He urged school men to see that all boys have a chance to get in the game especially at the Little League level.

The candidates are William Lloyd, incumbent, president of the board; Emerson Arends, incumbent; Thomas Casey a former police officer and John William Wimbley, former captain of the Campbell Police Auxiliary.

Lloyd, a member of the High School Board since 1942 is president of the Ainsley Corporation, member of the Methodist Church, a graduate from Campbell High School and College of the Pacific and a veteran of World War I in U. S. Marine Corp. He has been operating 90 acres of orchard property in the Campbell High School district for many years.

Arends, a member of the school board for three years is keenly interested in the growth of the district and needed school facilities. He is interested in keeping the school tax rate down and the educational services up. Arends is from a family long active in civic affairs in Campbell and is part owner of the Campbell Lumber Company.

Casey who resides at 63 South Third Street is now factory representative. He is interested in youth activities and, with the influx of new people, in seeing that the district gets the most for its tax dollar. His two children, Thomas Jr. and Kathleen attend the Cherry Lane School.

Wimbley resides at 240 W. Campbell avenue and says that he too is interested in the progress of the school with wise spending of the tax dollar.

Casey and Wimbley told the Press Tuesday they have a common interest as candidates, having both worked as police officers. They favor a recreation center suited for youth and also for older people.

A fifth name to appear on the ballot will be that of William Enochs, who died since filing nomination papers.

Post Office Is Proud Of Safe Driving Record

The number of accidents involving Postal vehicles is being drastically reduced by the Post Office Department's safe driving program, Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield announced today.

Marked reductions are being found not only in the number of accidents but also in the resulting cost of repairs to Postal vehicles and in accident rates. Decreases in accident rates approach 50 per cent while repair costs have dropped nearly three quarters in some cities.

In Campbell, Postmaster Ira Grim says he is exceedingly proud of the fact that his men have not had an accident in over three years and all drivers have completed a safe driving course.

PLANNERS MAY HALT NEW SUBDIVISIONS

San Tomas Boulevard Linked With Flood Control Project

While plan lines for the proposed San Tomas Boulevard were subjected to discussion Thursday at the Campbell Planning Commission meeting, approval was deferred for further study by the full membership. The boulevard would start at the proposed new Camden avenue and Winchester Road crossing to Robin Lane to parallel the east side of Old Orchard Road, over a realignment with Budd avenue, then toward Cypress and Rincon running parallel with Cypress across Campbell, Hamilton and Payne avenues following through Santa Clara by leaving the creek course at the Southern Pacific tracks near El Camino Real then heading toward Bayshore highway interchange by way of Scott and Kifer roads, east of the Fiberglass plant.

Nestor Barrett, planning consultant, said the proposed road has already been surveyed by the County Engineer and has been made a part of the street and highway plans in order that future subdivisions will provide adequate set-back lines for the boulevard.

Malcolm Burns, assistant flood control engineer in the office of the County Engineer, said at the meeting that the project is an integration of two public functions involving flood control and highway construction. He said new subdivisions are forming and their development will be rapid, so these plan lines are a step toward a flood control master plan for San Tomas Aquino Creek. Safety engineers have approved both the street and the creek plan lines. An 18-inch high curb is proposed as a safety factor along the creek side and the boulevard, fully developed would have six lanes costing about $100,000 per mile. The road can be started as two lanes and be widened later.

Between Rincon and Latimer there would be a major re-alignment of the creek. Engineers sought areas deemed least to be disturbed and found that but one house would have to be moved.

Members present were Chairman Hollis Logue, Secretary Homer Hyde, and commissioners L. W. Harmon and J. A. Tomlinson.

Commission continued the hearing on application to rezone from R-3 to C-2-S the Garrison property from apartments on the east side of Winchester Road 230 feet of Latimer Avenue, after listening to a presentation by Paul Gallagher, counsel for the Garrisons and owners of adjacent properties advocate commercial zoning.

Gallagher said Los Gatos with population of 5500 estimated by the Chamber of Commerce has 407 commercial uses, while Campbell with population estimated by the Chamber of Commerce at 10,000 has but 180 commercial uses.

He contended buildings proposed were subject to architectural control and that 2½ to 1 offstreet parking was being provided. Types of rentals would include an engineering office, barber shop, variety store, realty and title company. G. G. Kornelson, who is building a new $100,000 apartment house on adjacent property said there was enough multiple dwelling units in the area and he felt the property should be commercial. Cosmos Bertola, another property owner, expressed the same sentiments, but Bert Simmons contended this might be spot zoning and he was against it. Another spokesman said plan lines are set for widening Winchester to 90 feet, and that the new muli-million dollar Valley Fair Shopping Center two miles north on Winchester Road expects to draw from as far as Santa Cruz and the trend will be toward commercial properties at its approach on Winchester Road. Garrison contended Winchester was dedicated as a main thoroughfare.

The commission granted the variance applied for by Warren Untiedt to reduce parking requirements from 2000 to 1500 square feet per dwelling unit. Plans submitted by Attorney John Machado for a Union Oil Company service station on the northwest corner of Latimer and Winchester, the Rutherford property, were rejected because they were not applicable to this particular site, and had been prepared for a site in another part of the valley .

Commission approved plans of Frank Maggiore subdivision subject to conditions requested by the city engineer relative to setback for flood control, city dedication and fencing.

Council Warned That Storm Drainage System Is Must

The city council at a meeting Monday evening referred to the budget committee a report from the city planning commission that a storm drainage system be adopted as proposed by the city engineer with the main trunk line on David Avenue and with the Hamilton Avenue parallel line having first consideration. Commission reported that unless this is done soon they will have to reject future applications for subdivisions.

The project as reported to the planners by Mark Thomas, city engineer, projects a paving program for twenty years and estimates funds to be needed. It considers storm water drainage as vital in the corporate limits, proposes widening to four lanes the main arterials, providing curb and gutters in the process. Thomas said he is completing an official grade and monumental map for the city and is in the process of setting official grades so that when finished it can be determined where the storm sewers are most needed.

Council gave the go-ahead signal to Jack Scott, fire chief, for the purchase of a fire siren as a budgeted item. They heeded the chief's plea not to issue fireworks permits until a bill in the legislature is acted on, the matter being referred to the city attorney, Joseph Bonacina.

Three new ordinances were adopted, two being for annexations and the other to zone as first residential a recently annexed tract.

In other actions the council told W. J. Knowles it would be alright to set up a Christian Science show case inside the property line of the Friendly Shopping center on East Campbell avenue; granted permission to Police Chief Robert Locke to attend the Peace officer's convention at Stockton May 19-21; approved a police manual with certain revisions so that each officer will know his duty and obligation; approved report of Superintendent of Streets to have two Chinese elm trees on East Latimer avenue replaced with Liquid Amber trees.

Council wants more information from Chief Locke on his proposed Youth Advisor Council of three men and two women as a check before sending a first offender to juvenile court. It would set up a probation system.

"We have no acute juvenile problem here now, but with growth expected in the nevt few years, some such Council will help the police department" Chif Locke said.

Mayor Richard Morton said it would have to be highly organized. There would be economic problems as to meeting place, clerical help and other factors, so with council approval, told Chief Locke to present it in more concrete form. He said it had been adopted by other cities, some of which have since dropped it.

THE HIGH SCHOOL TAX DOLLAR

Every Taxpayer in the Campbell Union High School district should be interested in an Assembly bill which Tuesday came out of committee with a "do pass" recommendation and which is up for vote today in the Assembly.

The bill would take the burden off a high school district in which there is a county hospital conducting an education program for handicapped people of all age levels. This has been important since the close of World War II when more adults have been registered in this course, including polio cases. The State reimburses the district for education of handicapped minors, but the high school district has been obliged to pay for the adult education, and in the Campbell instance only about fifteen percent of those registered are from within the Campbell High school district, and we taxpayers have been paying for the others.

Assembly Bill No. 782, as amended, would have the school district enrolling the handicapped adult reimburse the hospital sustaining district for this cost.

State and local costs per student enrolled in high schools throughout the state average $400 annually, the cost in Campbell High school district being about $360. As we understand it, the state apportions $120 to the high school district for each adult seeking vocational training, so the bill will make it obligatory for outside districts to pay Campbell High school district some $240 for each student they send for this course.

For some thirty years handicapped children have benefitted from a hospital education program through the elementary school system, but eight years ago this work was taken over by the Campbell High school so those to 21 years old could be included. The bill calls for the state to apportion on an average daily attendance basis for adult training, balance of cost to be billed the district of origin. The bill also provides adequate instructional staff and equipment and it eliminates any feeling of discrimination as to place of origin for those being enrolled.

Assemblyman Bruce Allen gave strong backing to the measure in both the Education Committee and Ways and Means committee, on both of which he is a member.

A county-wide tax for this educational program first proposed, was vigorously fought by the Supervisorial Asociation, necesitating amending to its present form.

FALSE FACES ?

Freshman Senator Neuberger of Oregon, who was championing the cause of squirrels on the White House lawn not long ago, has come up with another earth-shaking issue. This time he would see to it that politicians be prevented from "deceiving" their audiences when speaking on television. Neuberger says that when politicians are reading their speeches from prompting devices, or "idiot boards," the viewers should be advised of the fact. Also if they wear artificial makeup which may conceal a bald spot or to make their jowls less obvious, this too will be revealed —if the Oregon Democrat has his way. This matter may be of vital importance to Mr. Neuberger, but we think there are one or two other matters to which the senator might devote his time and energy to the greater benefit of his constituents and the Nation as a whole.

WE CAN SURVIVE

The big blast at Yucca Flat in Nevada last week provided convincing evidence that people can survive the force of the A-bomb even when relatively near the center of the explosion—if properly protected.

Men and women stationed in trenches on the site came through all right, and many houses in Survival City were still there after the detonation.

These results provide both hope and a danger The hope is, of course, that with proper preparation survival would be much higher in case of an atomic attack than had been previously estimated. The danger is that the greater chances of survival may lull us into believing that we do not have to get on with the civil defense problem at once.

If we are smart, we will realize that there are two principal chances of survival—1. not to be within range of an atomic blast, or 2. to be adequately protected through advance planning.

We hope that enemy bombs will never fall on America. There are reasons to believe that none ever will. But our defenses must consist of something more than hope and belief.

28 YEARS AFTER

If you remember those exciting days of May 20-21, 1927, when a young flyer attempted the "impossible" by flying from New York to Paris all alone in a tiny plane, you may be startled to realize that it happened 28 years ago. The plane that took Charles Lindbergh on his epic flight is to modern aviation what the Model T Ford is to the automotive world. Never dreaming the sensation his flight would cause Lindbergh carried a letter of introduction to French officials. We presume he didn't use it.

LITTLE LEAGUERS Are warming up for a busy season directly school is over and you hear it all over town that this is a mighty good undertaking . . . the games this year will be at the Rosemary School where the Campbell Rotary Club and the Home and School Club have set up a stadium. . . . the farm league too is a good springboard into the Little League, then of course for hardball by older boys, there is the Pony League at the High School and the softball league which 14 week schedule was started Monday . . . reminds me of an old friend, Walter Mails, who was at the joint meeting of the Kiwanis, Rotary and Lions Clubs here Tuesday evening, a man who was at one time one of the best left-handers in the big leagues thirty-five years or so ago and who just about won single handed the world series for Cleveland, when Babe Ruth, Tris Speaker, Joe Jackson and the other Hall of Fame players were hitting against him, had a reputation of being an eccentric and a prankster on and off the field, but who at heart was and is a wonderful fellow . . . did a story about Walter one time that as a boy he was crippled, his mother, a widow, being appointed postmistress at San Quentin town, and she brought him up with a will that he must overcome his handicap, which he most certainly did, to attend church regularly and he has come along in years to love working with boys seeing what sound recreation program will do for youth without mentioning the handicap he had to overcome or the environment where he had to grow.

PLANS For a west valley recreation area have been hinted at by Karl Belser of Cambrian Park, County Planning Director and located near Vasona junction, two miles south of Campbell in an area where the proposed Route 5 freeway and Junipero Serra freeways might intersect, about three-quarters of a mile square between San Jose-Los Gatos Road and Winchester Road . . . a West Valley regional park would include some 400 acres northwest of LaRinconada golf course as a county development to contain a zoo, picnic areas, playgrounds, botanical gardens, arboretum and other facilities . . . even hints that Winchester Road might be continued along Southern Pacific right of way from Vasona Junction and tie in at University avenue in Los Gatos so as to relieve North Santa Cruz avenue of its traffic load . . . then on to Los Gatos in a series of parks, recreation and picnic areas, a golf course, lagoons for canoeing, equestrian trails, lodge halls and a resort hotel, but this we've got to see to believe is really something for a new generation and not very far off at that.

I was watching a ditch-digging machine the other morning, hard at work making a trench so that we could extend water service into a new subdivision. It struck me that keeping abreast of the new home building in the San Jose area makes us one of the leading "earthmovers" here.

As you all know, we can't lay water mains and service connections on top of the ground. It would make things lots easier if we could, but just think of 800 miles of exposed pipe for people to drive and trip over!

Years ago, all of this ditch-digging had to be done entirely by human hands, using picks and shovels. Today most of the big work is done by ditch-digging machines which can munch through the earth's surface at an average rate of 500 feet per hour. But there is still plenty of digging which can be done only by good strong hands and backs.

Here in the San Jose Water Works system we dig an average of 58.5 miles of ditches a year. As yesterday's prune and apricot orchards are transformed into new home tracts, ditches must be dug for laying the mains which carry water to the new areas, and for the pipes which connect up the new homes to the vitally needed water supply.

I asked Joe Slide-Rule, our figures and statistics man, just how much earth we have moved over the years in the process of digging ditches. He came up with a total of 1,680,000 cubic yards. That sounded quite stupendous, but it's even more impressive when you consider that this is more earth than it took to build Austrian Dam which forms our big Lake Elsman reservoir, holding about two billion gallons of water.

Yes, we're really in the earth-moving business in a big way!

Campfire Group Has A Cookout

The back yard of the Harry A. Smith's of Sunnyside Avenue, was again this year the setting of Campbell District Camp Fire Leaders' Association annual cookout. About sixteen women gathered in this place last Thursday, and learned much about fire-making, outdoor cooking techniques, and at noon time enjoyed an abundance of food, pot-luck style.

Mrs. Smith, Campbell District Camp Fire chairman, conducted a short business meeting, with last month's minutes having been read by Mrs. Virginia Means. Mrs. Smith announced that the District's Grand Council Fire will be Thursday, May 26, at 7 p. m. in Campbell Grammar School Auditorium. Mrs. C. F. Williamson, Campbell resident and chairman of the County's Camp Fire Civil Service program, announced that the County Hospital asked her to thank all of those leaders whose groups made the charming May baskets for the hospital.

Mrs. Suzanne Skinner, executive director, Santa Clara County Council of Camp Fire Girls, demonstrated fire-making, Miss Barbara Lindfors, Field Director, showed how cooking is done over out-door paraffin stoves, and Mrs. Lester Janucey, Chairman of the County's Executive Board joined with the other two women in teaching a new Indian song.

Some of the women who then engaged in making bread-on-a-stick, hamburgers in foil, and other barbecue delicacies were: Helen Archibald, Mozell Turner, Jeanette Nelson, Betty Voytek, with groups in Campbell Grammar and High School; Mrs. Kathryn Nevin, Cherry Lane; Beverly Gardner, San Tomas; Ethylmae Smith and Ann Davis, Moreland School. El Quito Park School was represented by Beverly Coe and Helen McLeod.

San Tomas Ready For Second Annual Girls' Play Day

About 240 girls in Campbell Union School District will go by bus to San Tomas School today for the second annual all day Sixth Grade Girls' Playday.

Games will break up at 11:45 and everyone will go to the front lawn to eat her own bag lunch. Milk and ice cream will be provided by the San Tomas hostesses.

Immediately after lunch each school will participate in a short talent show. Shortly after one, eight teams will go to the softball diamonds for play and the remaining eight team will folk dance on the lawn. At 1:30 the team will rotate activities.

Busses will return the girls to their own schools by 2:15.

The following teachers will help supervise and officiate:

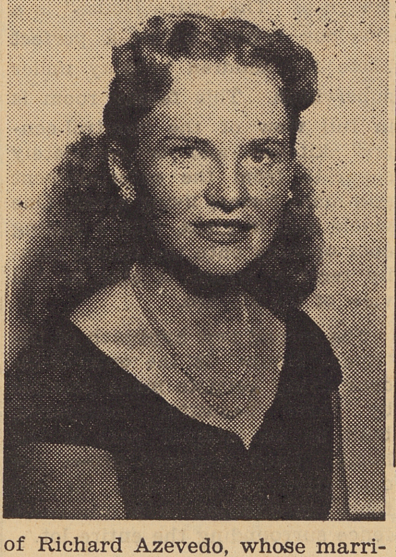
Jean Strandberg Honored With Bridal Shower

A family dinner party was given Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Henley to honor Jean Strandberg, bride-elect of Richard Azevedo, whose marriage is to take place Sunday, May 15th.



Jean, a very close school chum of Janis Henley Sharp, is like a second daughter to the Henleys, they having enjoyed her company on many family, school and campfire excursions over a period of many years.

Rosalind Jean is the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Strandberg and sister to Beverly, who is to be Maid of Honor at her wedding.

Mrs. Henley's idea of a "self-styled" bridal shower came as a pleasant surprise to Jean following dinner when fifteen decorative and useful gifts were presented to her.

Jean and Richard are local residents and both are graduates of Campbell Union High School. Jean is employed at the San Jose Day Nursery, while Richard is a buyer for the Sunsweet plant in Campbell.

Bricker Bill Is Topic At Campbell Republican Meet

Campbell Council of Republican Women at their monthly meeting Wednesday evening in the Campbell School cafetorium heard a discussion on the proposed Bricker Amendment by Col. Fred Buechner, San Jose civic leader and Robert Beresford, San Jose attorney.

Col. Buechner said that in early days treaties were ratified by the senate and a very few by the President, but later on more such treaties originated with the President. He said U. S. A. and Liberia are the only countries where ratified treaties can become a domestic law without legislative action. He said the Bricker amendment seeks to correct this.

Beresford questioned the Presidential power might revert to the states, slowing down action in handling foreign affairs. He conceded the proposed amendment had stimulated interest in the constitution.

There was a lively question and answer period in which there was evidence people are aware of this problem.

Refreshments followed the meeting served by the hostess committee Mesdames James Cardellino, Sherman Lombard, Carroll S. Dany and Mary F. Weir.

CANTERBURY AND PEABODY TO JOIN S. J. STATE STAFF

Two Campbell high school English teachers, Jim Canterbury and Jim Peabody are joining the staff of the San Jose Junior College in September. Canterbury now is advisor for the school newspaper, while Peabody has headed the Debate team which has been winning contests all over Northern California.

Albert Vogl Talks At St. Lucy's Meet

Guest speaker at the recent meeting of the St. Lucy's Mother's Guild was Albert Vogl of Bavaria, Germany, who discussed the career of Theresa Neuman, the stigmatist. Vogl is a personal friend of Miss Neuman's and gave a vivid account of her life and also showed pictures that he had taken when in Europe in 1953.

After the lecture a short business meeting followed, with Father Denis Kennelly giving the blessing. A Day of Recollection is planned for members of the Guild May 22nd at the Medical Missionary Sisters in Los Altos.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by Mrs. B. I. Lawless and Mrs. John Lessor.

The "mission" variety of olive, first established by the Spanish at Mission San Diego, is widely grown in California.

Brownie Troop Mother's Day Tea

The third annual Mother's Day Tea was held by Brownie Troop 99 on May 4th. Camp registrations were taken and money was collected for the Juliette Low Fund. The girls sang a group of songs, and passed their test on the Tenderfoot Rank requirements. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Leonard Hildebrandt. The troop meets every Wednesday afternoon in the home of the leaders, Mrs. Walter Gipe.

Troop 99 won first place among Brownie troops in the Old Settler's Day Parade. The girls carried a maypole made by a member of the troop committee, Mrs. Robert Ingram. Dr. Robert Jasmine presented a trophy to the Brownies at the Dover Home and School Club meeting, May 9th.

An estimated 530,000 anglers caught a record total of 22,300,000 trout in California waters in 1953.

SPACE HOUSE IS FEATURED IN CAMPBELL

Three outstanding new approaches to a modern concept of family living are being introduced here Saturday (May 14) at the grand opening of "The Space House" in Century Woods, at Rincon and Virginia. Two models of the remarkable new home will be open for public inspection from 10 a. m. to 8 p. m. daily.

Behind this new idea in homes is an outstanding talent team brought together by the Century Company, of Palo Alto, in order to open new vistas for ideal family living.

According to William Sigal, of the Century Company, "The Space House" was design-perfected from combined ideas of leading architects, famous interior designers, luxury home experts, landscape architects and production specialists after months of research by the talent team. Brought together for this specific purpose were the Western Design Group, architectural designers; Echbo, Royston and Williams, landscape architects; and Hilde Reiss, interior designer.

Fifty-seven of the homes are to be included in the first group with others to be constructed as soon as possible to meet the growing demand for distinctive homes in the area, Sigal said. Considerable interest already has been shown by the public even before the grand opening, he added. Each model of "The Space House" contains 3 bedrooms, 2 full baths, both with shower and tub.

One of the new concepts in the design of "The Space House" is a spacious family room—a perfect place for children to play under supervision. This family room is in full view of the "control-center" kitchen and is completely separate from the entertainment and more formal living areas. One whole wall is glass, with a sliding door opening onto the fenced family terrace, which is also in full view of the kitchen.

The second new approach of the "Space House" is the outdoor-indoor living keynote made possible by three beautiful courtyards, built as an integral part of the home. Each couryard offers the decorative privacy of a six-foot fence, in addition to a handsome fence surrounding the entire lot.

The third new concept provides planned beauty for each home. In addition to the basic landscaping, each home is complete with an especially-designed landscape development plan, which may be used imaginatively to add further beauty to the surroundings. The plans are prepared by Eckbo, Royston and Williams, winners of numerous national awards in landscaping design.

Other luxury features of "The Space House" include a built-in radio with principal controls in the kitchen and controllable speakers through the house; a handsome brick fireplace as well as thermostatically-controlled forced air heat and summer cooling to every part of the house; oak hardwood floors on conventional foundation; insulated roof; Formica sink tops; large linen wardrobe closets; genuine ceramic tile in both baths; all-wood kitchen cabinets; two-car garage, workshop area: dramatic exposed beam ceilings; Formica vanity in dressing room; and many others.

A new approach to home building—"The Space House"—is being introduced by The Century Company at Rincon and Virginia in Campbell. One of the two models open to the public is shown above.

Mrs. Tom Christian, wife of owner of Twig Market on South Winchester road, says she is pleased with business potentials in Campbell.

San Tomas PTA To Honor First Graduating Class

Plans for the program of next Tuesday's meeting of the San Tomas P. T. A. when sixth graders will be honored were discussed Monday evening by the executive board. This is the first sixth grade class to go completely through all grades since the school was built.

Kenneth Robertson will discuss the summer recreation program which includes plans for swimming instruction and the fourth grade class of Mrs. Bailey will have a display of rocks for parents to see.

It was announced a final family recreation program for the year will be held June 5 with tentative plans for a potluck dinner and a field day at the school.

The P. T. A. has chosen "Team Work Does It" as its theme for next year. Several members will attend a P. T. A. Council and luncheon to be held Friday, May 13, at the Saratoga Federated Church.

The June meeting of the executive board will be at the home of Mrs. Robert Farrell on June 13.

IOOF Whist Party For May 14

The regular monthly Whist party sponsored by I. O. O. F. Ridgeley and Hesperian Lodges of Los Gatos will be held Saturday, May 14, at 8:00 p. m. in the Lodge Hall on Santa Cruz Avenue.

El Quito Park Installs Officers

Mrs. Gene Riordan took over her duties as El Quito Park PTA's new president at last Tuesday night's dinner meeting at Moreland cafetorium. Other new officers installed were Robert Eitreim, 1st vice-president, 2nd vice-president being Robert S. Tack, principal of El Quito Park School. Third vice-president is Mrs. Phillip Hurd; secretary is Mrs. Ray Coe and treasurer is Mrs. John P. Linger. Mrs. John Diehl took over duties as historian, Cecil Cox became auditor, and Mrs. Oliver Upton is new parliamentarian. The installing officer was Mrs. Bruce Holmes, the unit's first president.

Before the business meeting, parents and children enjoyed a chuck wagon style dinner which was served by the fathers. Mrs. Upton, retiring president, presided over the meeting until the installation of the new officers. Mrs. Frank Mortara's Blue Bird group led the flag salute, and Mrs. Mortara then introduced the candidates for the May 20th Trustee election. The three candidates, Mrs. Marian Dearborn, Robert Brydon, and Sam Manfre, spoke briefly about their qualifications. Treasurer's report was read by Mrs. Thor Bergstrom, and Mr. Eitreim announced a benefit show was being held the end of the month. Mrs. Helen Taggert's third grade won the attendance award.

The unit went on record as endorsing the Assembly Bill 328 which concerns school taxes. During the entertainment part of the meeting, teachers and fathers played in their own orchestra, and mothers sang several selections. All El Quito Park teachers put on a comical skit about the trials of a bus driver, which was played by Cecil Cox, sixth grade teacher.

Dover Parents Learn Students' Capabilities

The average capabilities of fifth grade students was demonstrated by Fred Kuster's class when the Dover Home and School Club met Tuesday evening. The students' own ideas of presenting a TV spectacular was carried through even to the point of exceedingly clever commercials written entirely by the children.

To demonstrate reading ability, each member read from a book they are now studying. To demonstrate mathematical ability, their teacher, Fred Kuster, held a brief session of mental arithmetic and the children were found to be twice as fast and accurate as any parent present. A reverse situation of giving a word definition first and the child knowing the word then spelling it, showed parents their capabilities of spelling and actually knowing what a word meant.

The students concluded their stimulating program with a song in two part harmony.

The meeting was opened by the president, Burch Calkins who welcomed the parents and guests. Dr. Robert Jasmine, general chairman of the Old Settlers' Day parade, presented a gold trophy to Miss Meredith Ingram for Brownie Troop No. 99 which won the award as best in their class in the Old Settlers' Day Parade.

Miss Jane Christopher's second grade class entertained with two songs and Miss Rosanne Lombardo was presented with a prize for naming the newly established school paper the "Dover Tattler".

Newly elected officers installed during the evening were Tom Mansfield, president; Mrs. Vinton Matthews, 1st vice-president; Fred Kuster, 2nd vice-president; Jay Welsh, treasurer; and Mrs. Walter Gipe, secretary.

Refreshments donated by the fourth grade mothers were served by the hospitality committee.

The Bucs have won four out of five league contests and Fremont three out of four. Campbell knocked the Comets of James Lick High out of contention last week in a 2-1 thriller on the local diamond.

Mike Profit Sets Record In Shot Put

Campbell High did better than all right at last Friday night's SCVAL Track Meet on the new Los Gatos oval. Lick won the meet but everybody was talking about the Buc athletes like sophomore Mike Profit, who must be the best high school shot put artist in the state. He now holds the SCVAL record with a toss of 53 ft. 10 inches. Ten minutes after setting the record he was up collecting his reward of "one soda" from athletic director George Miskulin.

The local high school had the largest representation of any valley secondary school in the stands. Buc cheerleaders yelled on every local contestant and the crowded stands were given a football game atmosphere, thanks to the Campbell spirit.

Judges and timekeepers at the meet agreed that Campbell's Rod Sprecher was the best "second place" competitor of the evening. It was his drive that urged Henry Aguilar, Lick's tremendous hurdle champion on to :15.5 and :20.5 in the two barrier races. In both, Sprecher came in less than two paces behind.

That new Los Gatos high school field has a lighting system that casts no shadows whatsovere on the field. It is modeled on the one in Stanford stadium and designed by the same man.

Many of Campbell High School's girls athletes are attending the SCVAL barbecue and field sports day at Santa Clara High School this afternoon. The event serves as a "clinic" in which high school girls' sports commissions exchange ideas and enjoy swimming, field sports, and tennis together as well as the barbecue and group discussions.

Campbell Has Roman Olympics

The CUHS Rally Commission and track team joined together in putting on a rally held Thursday, May 5th, in the football bleachers.

The Rally started off with a procession, made up of the team and commission members dressed as Romans, marching from the North-West end of the field to the front of the football bleachers. Leading the procession were two of the Song Girls, Marceline Dale and Carol Schpansky, carrying a large banner reading "Campbell Roman Olympics". Gary Lukehart who acted as narrator, then announced the lighting of the Urn, "The Symbol of Strength". Jerry Cathy dressed as a Roman, then ran onto the field and lit the Urn.

Next came the arrival of Cleopatra, "the fairest lady in the land" played by Ellen Stepovich. The five cheerleaders, Louie Flaminio, Lois Fairbanks, Mary Begalke, Bev Strandberg, and Roberta Perriea, carried her onto the field on a stretcher, and proceeded to dump her on the ground in front of the throne; which was in the middle of the field. Mark Anthony, played by Rich Luhring, then arrived in his chariot, (a small scooter.) He climbed off his chariot, and went to the throne. He turned to the audience and said, "Friends, Romans, Countrymen, Lend me your ears!" Anne Sorella and Bambi Pringle then ran onto the field with two giant ears.

The trumpets sounded, and Gary announced the arrival of the great Julius Sneezer, and his wife Calpurnia, played by Rich Alfano and Dee Doerr. They came racing down the track in a pink hot rod, drove to the front of the bleachers and got out. Then they went to the throne, and the track team broke out with "Hail Sneezer, Hail Sneezer". Sneezer turned to the audience and said, "Let the Games Begin".

The track team then went through a series of relays, pole vaults, discus throws and broad jumps, after which Sneezer awarded them with a medal for the fine exhibition. Then with his wife, Calpurnia, Sneezer departed saying "thus ends another Campbell Olympic".

Several cheers led by the five cheerleaders ended the rally.

Everyone seemed to really enjoy this rally. It was one of the most humorous that we have ever had at Campbell High. Mr. Klassen and Miss Maselli are the advisors to the Rally Commission, and worked right along with the students in preparing for this rally.

CAMPBELL WINS HIGH HONORS IN MUSIC FESTIVAL

Campbell High School's musicians were among 8000 from some 100 Northern California schools at the Northern High School Festival at S. J. State last week end. Frank Triena's A cappella Choir won a "superior" in both performance and sight-reading, and Dick Gordon's high school orchestra won an "excellent" in performance and a "superior" in sight reading. Campbell High's band was good in performance and superior in sight-reading. Individuals winning superior ratings from Campbell included first trumpet, Tony Sponsler, first trombone, Larry Tyrell, Ronald de Ruise, first violinist, and Marian Gould, cello.

Campbell High's soloists also won honors with their voices: Nick DeRose, bass; Diane Patterson, soprano; Alice Farmer, soprano; and Gary Strauss, tenor.

Clubs at the high school are preparing for their year's big "money-maker", the annual all school carnival. It will be held this year, beginning at 1 P. M. in the pavilion adjoining the Agricultural classrooms, where club-sponsored booths will offer games, prizes, and refreshments for "anyone with a ticket". Last year's most successful enterprise was a booth sponsored by California Scholarship Federation; they featured baby pictures of faculty members on a "Guess Who This Is" basis. The carnival is a wonderful opportunity for originality, salesmanship, and that most nebulous of all qualities, "Being able to get along with the public".

INK STAINS

By HELEN McLEOD

IT SEEMS FUNNY to be writing for a paper in which errors are the reporter's—not the composing room. I'm used to having my articles appear in print looking like the compositor had dropped the whole galley, scooped up the lines of type, and replaced them all at random. Believe me, it becomes difficult to convince the owner of the name and item that was dropped that the fault did not sometimes begin with sloppy notes, bad typing and profound illiteracy. I'm not saying that I had bad luck with everything that appeared in the other West Valley paper for which I wrote—but often enough for me to be making constant retractions, apologies, and dark references to a composing room peopled with malignant imps.

WHEN I WRITE, I'm a name dropper myself—in the sense that I record children's parties, baby showers, and the everyday doings of children and animals. But when to a Rita, she lives in Quito, and settling down to having another baby—not to collecting her million in alimoy. When first names like Terry, Cary, Denice and Debra appear, they are generally those of local characters under twelve, living roughly, as their parents may agree, in the general area of Moreland-Quito.

MOST SAD OF ALL, my Barons, Counts, Dukes, Princesses are most of the time lost dogs, cats, parakeets—with an occasional rabbit, chicken and duck thrown in for variety. Most of these animals are in the back yard and houses of that 1500-home area which starts out melodiously with Paseos—streets to you, in Spanish—Cerros, Flores, Pueblo, and ends with an Irish-Scotch-English flavor—McCulloch, Dundee, Heath.

THEN, AS MY NEWS is gathered closer to Moreland School, the Spanish influence crops up again in the Monte Linda tract, where we find Los Alamos, Los Felice, Los Olivos—but how did Southwood and McKinnon Drive get in there?

AS WE PASS MORELAND SCHOOL, we glimpse Colombo Drive —not a variation of the spelling of our continent's discoverer's name, but that of the builder. In Hollywood Park, the names of the motion-pictures great abound—Will Rogers, De Mille, Barrymore—all Drives, all studded with homes, all with children, all attending, or slated to attend Moreland School. Here, too, we discover a seeming discrepancy. Could Piper Drive refer to Piper Laurie and Mitzi Drive which runs parallel to Barrymore Drive indicate that the last name may be Green?

REAL QUICK LIKE, before I run out of space, I want to throw in a few local names. Although the Sigred Jones Montalvo Exhibit is gone, I want to say that one of the portraits was that of Maggie Anne, little daughter of the William Madeiras of Devon Avenue. (Mrs. M. is the Rita I hinted about earlier.)

AL FICHERS, JR. CAMPBELL HIGH CAMPBELL HIGH student and Martha Avenue resident is the artist who decorates his uncle's bakery—much admired by passers-by.

FRIENDS OF BERNARD AND EDNA DOYLE—that popular family who left Quito recently to settle in Albuquerque, New Mexico, will be glad to know that Mrs. V. Barnes, of Quito Road, saw them down there recently, found them in good health, and talking about the nice weather they left in Santa Clara Valley.

IF IT'S NOT TOO LATE to mention Campbell's Old Settlers' Day Parade,—saw many Quito residents watching with delight while waiting for their children to appear down Campbell Avenue. Mrs. W. Welch of Munroe Avenue was there, eager to get a glimpse of daughters Patsy and Jan. Ray and Beverly Coe were in the front seat of a pickup, along with son Rolland, and with the back end gaily decorated and bulging with district Camp Fire Girls. Some of them I spotted were Sandy Charlton, Phyllis Cunningham, Marsha Smith, Betsey Ballantyne, Myrna Resseler.

AMONG THE WATCHERS were former Quito residents, now of Union Avenue, Campbell—Mrs. W. L. Archibald, and children Carolyn and Billie. Heard that Billie caught the first blue gill at a family fish-out at Lexington Dam. Mrs. James Roule and daughter Carole—Notre Dame High student—were straining to see Scout Jim, Jr., of Moreland, and second grader Linda—Brownie at St. Lucy's. In the St. Lucy group also was Dianne Sanfilippo, 5th grade daughter of the San Tomas Road family. Across Campbell Avenue from me, I spotted Mrs. Bertha Hoagland, Moreland kindergarten teacher and leader of a large Campbell High Senior Girl Scout Troop. Mrs. R. E. Barton of Hedegard Ave. marched with a group of Moreland district Girl Scouts. These girls were Janey Nolte, Carola Barton, Cheryl Day, Louanna and Margaret Schlobohm, Merrily Pennell, Kathy Leeper and Barbara Hoover.

SEE, NOW, HERE WE HAVE lots of names—and names are what make the local paper. Not international, national, state and metropolitan news—but names of our neighbors, children, and all their doings—big and little.

WELL, OCCASIONALLY, I FIND that I can drop a nice sounding name when I'm writing about Saratoga. When I write Joan and Olivia, the last name sometimes is Fontaine and deHaviland. Mrs. George Fontaine, the stars' mother, lives in Saratoga. I spoke to Mrs. Fontaine only once, when she appeared at the office, but I was able to make a big production out of the encounter by going into details about her lovely voice—and an oblique reference to her famous daughters. And once—O lucky me—I had Heddy LeMarr's name in my column. I mentioned that she was staying at Saratoga Inn, during that time her daughter attended Country School of Los Gatos.

STATEMENT

I have been a member of the Board of Trustees of the Campbell Union High School District since 1942. I have seen the area change from a rural district to a suburban district. The Board of Trustees has been very successful in keeping pace with the increase of the student population. We have provided excellent facilities together with an outstanding faculty. Studies show that our students are very successful in all endeavors of life.

It has been the policy of the Board of Trustees to see that all students receive equal opportunities regardless of where they reside in the district. The members of the Board of Trustees come from various parts of the district and are alert to the needs of each part. With this thought in mind, the Camden High School is being built and as the population increases, other schools will be built so that the entire district can have the same excellent program that we have at present.

The Board of Trustees of the Campbell Union High School, together with the Boards of Trustees of the Grammar Schools have provided an excellent recreational program. Under this program we operate fifteen play grounds, recreational swimming and swimming lessons at Campbell High School, a summer music program, a teen-age program for high school students, Little League, Pony League, softball, tumbling, tennis, and adult basketball. We feel that this program has met a real need for recreation in our district.

I am proud to be a member of a Board of Trustees which is constantly interested in the welfare of youth. I am again a candidate for this Board of Trustees so I may continue to assist in the maintenance of this excellent program.

It is also important to note that this program is maintained at the lowest tax rate of any high school district in Santa Clara County. It has long been our policy to bring the best in education and recreation to our district at the lowest possible rate.

San Tomas PTA To Honor Class

In spite of having to return home without witnessing the repeatedly-delayed A-bomb blast of Operation Cue, members of California's Office of Civil Defense radiological expedition to Nevada agreed today that their mission had been highly successful.

The purpose of the undertaking was to conduct a field test of Radef (radiological defense) personnel and equipment under actual field conditions, which turned out to be exceedingly rugged, according to Philip Gill, state radiological supervisor who headed the project.

Local persons among the more than 50 Radef experts who participated in the Nevada exercises were: F. A. Ellis, San Jose State College, of 751 Steinway.
